

The FCC should reject petition 04-160. Natural evolution of technology and innovation should NOT be stifled. This is the day of age when information and access to it grows by leaps and bounds each day and DECREASED competition does NOT help the cause of getting the people the information they WANT. XM is not forcing people to use their services, XM is providing information to its customers... the ones who want it. Don't let radio stifle this new innovation, don't succumb to their requests to limit competition. Make THEM innovate. Let information and access to it roam free, through the sky, and space.
